

Dear Student:

We are pleased to announce that Jones International University is partnering with BusinessWeek magazine to provide you with the online edition of BusinessWeek. BusinessWeek's online format mirrors the content in the print edition while creating an interactive tool that instantly advances the learning process. You will be able to hyperlink to articles from the table of contents, search text, add sticky notes and highlight important passages, all from your computer. Relevant, timely, thorough and useful – BusinessWeek helps you stay up to date on important business issues.

This letter contains important information that will help you subscribe to BusinessWeek to receive both the print and online editions. Please read it carefully. Keep this PDF copy of the letter open while you subscribe and register as the links are active and will take you directly to where you need to go. We also recommend printing a copy to keep for reference.

There are three parts to activating your subscription to BusinessWeek as described below.

Part 1: Subscribe to the print edition of BusinessWeek

1. Go to the BusinessWeek - JIU Subscription Page. This page is where you will subscribe to BusinessWeek using a credit card (Visa, MasterCard, Amex, Discover). This subscription fee is in lieu of the textbook fees normally required for JIU courses. The fee is only $10.97 and provides you with both the print edition of BusinessWeek and access to the online edition with premium features.
2. Complete the registration form and enter your credit card information. The registration page is a secure site.
3. Click Submit to activate your subscription.
4. Within 48 hours of your registration, you will receive an email providing you with:
 - Customer service information.
 - The cover-date issue of the first print issue of your subscription. Cover dates are the date on the front cover of the magazine. Your magazine will arrive 11 days before the cover date.
 - Your subscriber account number (for the print version of BusinessWeek). You will use your subscriber account number to set up access to the online edition of BusinessWeek in Part 2 below.

Part 2: Activate your BusinessWeek Online premium content account

- Go online to the BusinessWeek Customer Service Center.
1. Click Register on upper part of the screen (just to the right of the red BusinessWeek logo).
 2. Click Register – Register for Free. Complete the registration form and click the Complete Registration button.

3. Once you click the Complete Registration button, your browser will prompt you for the user name and password you have just created. You will return to the registration page and you should see a message in red saying "You are now registered."
4. Back on the registration page, click Print Subscribers - Activate your FREE Online Subscription. You'll be asked to enter your label code, which is your subscriber account number you received via email in Part 1 above. Enter your subscriber account number and click Submit.

Part 3: Download the Zinio reader software and download and read your digital edition of BusinessWeek

1. You will receive an email alert notification from Zinio, BusinessWeek's digital partner when your online edition of BusinessWeek is available. Click on the link "Pick up the xx/xx/xx issue now" in the email.
2. Next, you will be prompted to either 'sign in' or 'create a new account' at Zinio.com - choose 'create a new account'. Your university email address will already be filled in for you -- please do not change this email address, or else your subscription will not be correctly authorized.
3. Once you create an account and/or sign-in, you will be prompted to download the Zinio Reader, if you have not previously done so. Upon installing the Zinio Reader, your first issue of BusinessWeek will begin to download immediately.
4. Each week, you will receive an email alert informing you that your newest issue is available to download. When you get this message, simply click on the Zinio Reader icon on your desktop to access the most recent issue. If you do not see the new issue, click the "Check for New Deliveries" button on the toolbar of the Zinio Reader.
